Hi [Leader's Name],

Wanted to run something by you — Blackline Safety is doing their first-ever live customer event, Blackline Exchange, on Wednesday, November 4, 2026 in Las Vegas. I'd like to go, and here's why I think it pays off for <company>.

Here's what I'll do when I get back: within two weeks, I'll send you a short recap focused on what matters for our team, flag 2-3 experiments worth trying right away, and run a quick session to walk the team through it so everyone gets the benefit, not just me.

The big draw to attend is getting real, unfiltered conversations with other safety and ops people running the same platform — what's worked for them, what hasn't, and what they'd do differently. A few things that stand out:

- Roundtables with other safety and ops leaders — a chance to compare notes with people solving the same problems we are, and stress-test how we're approaching things.
- Peer sessions on adoption and data usage — hearing how other teams are driving frontline adoption, getting more out of Blackline Live data, and scaling programs across complex operations.
- Takeaways I can actually use — the sessions are built around what's working in practice, so I'd come back with real tactics.
- Direct time with Blackline's own product and customer success teams – with a chance to provide input on the future of the platform.

Cost-wise:

- Registration: free for Blackline customers (meals included)
- Hotel: Mandalay Bay $<Insert Amount>
- Flights/travel: $<Insert Amount>
- Total: $<Insert Total>

Since it's their first event and spots are limited, I'd like to register soon if you're good with it. Happy to answer questions or dig up more on specific sessions — let me know!

Thanks, [Your Name]
